SUNDAY MORNING SERMON JASON HARDIN

So if you consider me your partner,him as you would receive me (v. 17) my heart in Christ (v. 20). The Challenge Before All Three Men Paul: to send someone very back? Onesimus: to actually back? Philemon: how to Onesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter		Lessons From Paul's Letter to Philemon imprisonment (v. 10). I am sending him back to you, sending my very heart (v. 1 So if you consider me your partner,him as you would receive me (v. 17) my heart in Christ (v. 20). The Challenge Before All Three Men Paul: to send someone very back? Onesimus: to actually back? Philemon: how to Onesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter
So if you consider me your partner,him as you would receive me (v. 17) my heart in Christ (v. 20). The Challenge Before All Three Men Paul: to send someone very back? Onesimus: to actually back? Philemon: how to Onesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter		I appeal to you for my child,, whose father I became in my
receive me (v. 17) my heart in Christ (v. 20). The Challenge Before All Three Men Paul: to send someone very back? Onesimus: to actually back? Philemon: how to Onesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter: how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on th before the negative? + A (v. 3) + Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) + Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)		imprisonment (v. 10). I am sending him back to you, sending my very heart (v. 12).
receive me (v. 17) my heart in Christ (v. 20). The Challenge Before All Three Men Paul: to send someone very back? Onesimus: to actually back? Philemon: how to Onesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter: how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on th before the negative? + A (v. 3) + Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) + Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)		So if you consider me your partner, him as you would
Paul: to send someone veryback? Onesimus: to actually back? Philemon: how to Onesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter : how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on the before the negative? + A (v. 3) + Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 4-5) With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)
Paul: to send someone veryback? Onesimus: to actually back? Philemon: how to Onesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter : how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on the before the negative? + A (v. 3) + Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 4-5) With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)	Τŀ	he Challenge Before All Three Men
Philemon: how toOnesimus? Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter : how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on thebefore the negative? + A(v. 3) + Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 4-5) With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) + Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)		_
Lessons Worth Learning From the Letter : how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on the before the negative? + A (v. 3) * Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 4-5) * With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) * Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)	•	Onesimus: to actually back?
: how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on the before the negative? + A (v. 3) + Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 4.5) With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) + Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)		Philemon: how to Onesimus?
: how much more effective for good might we be if we focused on the before the negative? + A (v. 3) + Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 4.5) With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) + Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)		accome Month Leave in a From the Letter before the negative? A(v. 3) Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 4-5) With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-1)	LE	- Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5) : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-
 : Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8- 		+ A(v. 3)
 With that existing foundation, Paul could present one of the most difficult opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8- 		• Expressed for what is commendable in Philemon's life (v. 4-5)
opportunities Philemon might ever face (v. 10-14) Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22) : maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-		: Philemon was a man who genuinely cared about God and others (v. 7)
: maturing from "what is required" to "for sake" (v. 8-		·
		 Notice again the present optimism fueled by refreshment (v. 20-22)
"": Paul's trust in God's (v. 14-16)		: maturing from "what is required" to "forsake" (v. 8-9)
		"": Paul's trust in God's (v. 14-16)