

As the last book of the Bible reaches its conclusion, two cities are highlighted and contrasted. It ought to lead us to ask: "Which city am I living for?"

_____ (Gen 11:1-4; Dan 4:28-30; 1 Pet 5:13)

- The news: " _____ " (Rev 18:2)
- All about her own _____ (18:7)
- Would reap a harvest of rotten _____ (18:3, 9-14)
- The " _____ life" replaced with death, mourning, and famine (18:8)
- Judgment against her for the _____, apostles, and prophets (18:20-24)
- The message: "Come _____ of her" (18:4-5)

New _____

- The news: " _____ " (Rev 21:1-2)
- All about the glory of _____ (21:22-23)
- The tree of _____ for the healing of the nations (22:1-2)
- Death, mourning, and pain will be " _____ things" (21:3-8, 26-27; 22:3-5)
- _____ for the saints (21:10-14)
- The message: " _____ " (22:7, 12-17, 20)

But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself. (Philippians 3:20-21)
