

“Why is it thought incredible by any of you that _____ raises the _____?”
- the apostle Paul in Acts 26:8

Paul is unashamedly standing before Governor Festus and King Agrippa (26:9-22), boldly testifying that Jesus was “the _____ to rise from the dead” (26:23; John 20). What does that mean, and why does it matter, even this morning?

“From Death to Life” (John 5:17-29)

- One day, Jesus is going to raise _____ of the dead (5:28-29a)
- Jesus will raise all of the dead by his mighty _____ (5:28)
- Jesus has power to raise the dead because he is the _____ of God (5:26)
- Jesus has authority to execute _____ because he is the Son of _____ (5:27; Acts 17:30-31)
- _____ resurrection experience will correspond with the way ____ lived my _____ (5:29; Rom 3:22-23; 6:23a)
- If I want to be raised to life _____, I need to be raised to newness of life _____ (5:25; Rom 3:20-26; 6:23, 1-4; John 20:29; Acts 2:36-41)
